Project Design Review Ratings

Welcome to the design review! You have studied the work of your fellow student engineers and it is now time to evaluate what you have seen. You will do this as a team. Based on what your team thinks of each design, including your own, fill in the following table.

For each correct prediction of what will happen when the design is tested, your team will be awarded an extra point on the project. For each incorrect prediction of what will happen, your team will lose a point on the project.

Team Number	Team Name	Check this column if you think the design will be SAFE (hold)	Check this column if you have no prediction.	Check this column if you think the design will be DANGEROUS (break)
