

Financial Statement for F-1 Students

Student Name: _____

Students in F-1 status are required to have enough funds available to cover all expenses while a student. These expenses include, but are not limited to, on-campus housing, meal plan, mandatory medical insurance, laptop rental, student fees, textbook purchase and/or rental, and personal spending money. A list of estimated expenses is available in a separate sheet.

Proof of available funding for the first year of study must accompany this statement and may include an official bank statement in the student's or sponsor's name, an official statement of grant or scholarship, or other similar documents. All financial documents must be current at the time of application in order to be considered valid. If there is more than one sponsor, each sponsor must complete this form.
